

Lindsey Chappell

FPQP™, CDFA®

Divorce Financial Analyst, GenCrest Capital Partners

Lindsey joined GenCrest Capital Partners in 2018 and plays a key role in supporting the Divorce Wealth Strategies team in an accounting capacity and providing support services to Family Office clients. She ensures that the essential details of a client's finances are seamlessly integrated into the firm's comprehensive analysis and planning services.

Lindsey earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of North Carolina Greensboro's Bryan School of Business and holds both the Certified Divorce Financial Analyst® (CDFA®) and Financial Paraplanner Qualified Professional™ (FPQP®) designations.

She is also the co-creator of Affidavit MAPP, a software solution designed to streamline and enhance the preparation of financial affidavits in divorce proceedings. Her innovative approach empowers attorneys and clients by providing precise financial documentation, ensuring equitable settlements, and optimizing wealth management post-divorce.

Professional Certifications

- CPA Candidate: Certified Public Accountant, Candidate
- CDFA®: Certified Divorce Financial Analyst, Institute of Divorce Financial Analyst, 2021
- FPQP™: Financial Paraplanner Qualified Professional, College for Financial Planning, 2020

Divorce Related Education

- NCBAR, Special Considerations in a "Grey Divorce." Conference, 2023, 2024
- AICPA/AAML Conference on Divorce. Las Vegas, NV, AICPA/AAML, 2022
- NCBAR, "There is an Expert in the Room for That" Conference, 2022
- Institute for Divorce Financial Analysts National Conference. Nashville, TN, 2019
- American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers Sixth Bi-Annual Family Law Symposium, NC Chapter, 2019
- Florida Bar Family Law Annual Convention, 2018

Education

- Bachelor of Science, Accounting, 2020
University of North Carolina at Greensboro
- Associate of Science, Biology, 2018
Georgia Southern University

Professional Organizations

- Institute for Divorce Financial Analysts™ (IDFA)

